

THE More Fun Less Stuff CATALOG

An alternative gift catalog for those who want to wrap their holidays in more of what matters—meaning, connection, and joy—and less of what doesn't (stuff, stress, and waste).

More Fun, Less Stuff

The holidays are meant to be a time of peace, reflection, and celebration. Yet too often, we feel trapped by all the shopping, spending, and frenzied preparations that accompany the season.

But it doesn't have to be this way. It's time to think outside the (big) box. It's time to celebrate and give in a manner that encourages more sharing, more laughter, and more creativity—and less stress, less waste, and less debt.

“Probably the reason we all go so haywire at Christmas time with the endless unrestrained and often silly buying of gifts is that we don't quite know how to put our love into words.”

—Harlan Miller

This alternative gift catalog is filled with hundreds of meaningful gift ideas that can be customized for your friends and family. Because, after all, the best gifts usually don't fit in a box.

If you're looking for a way to gently let your family and friends know to "shop" for you from this catalog, there's an easy solution: start a SoKind registry. For inspiration, see our sample holiday wishlist.

If you feel uncomfortable sending out a holiday wish list, try proposing it like: "This year, I really want to make sure that I'm giving gifts you actually want. I don't just want to add clutter to your lives! I heard about this online service called SoKind that lets families make holiday wish lists. You can even register for more creative gifts that you can't get in a store. Here's a sample holiday wish list—wouldn't it be fun if our families created something like it this year?"

For Your Partner

Date-Night Passport

Create a booklet or pamphlet with 12 date-night itineraries that you know would delight your partner. Then choose one itinerary every month of the year. No more “you choose... no, you choose.”

The Gift of Nostalgia

Unless your first date was an absolute disaster, a thoughtful gift idea would be to try to recreate that experience (although it might be funny to recreate a bad experience and try to improve it!). If you saw a movie on your first date, find it on Netflix. Did you eat Mexican food? Order similar dishes or, if you're feeling enthusiastic, have a cooking date prior to the movie.

Classes/Lessons

Gift them a class or share your own talents: art, photography, cooking, sports, yoga, dance, music, kayaking, surfing, paddle boarding, sailing, scuba diving, fly fishing, jewelry making, knitting, letterpress, floral design, pottery, glass blowing, writing/journaling

Event Tickets

Movie, concert, opera, play, Broadway show, comedy show, music festival, lecture series, sporting event, car/boat show

Outdoor Pursuits

Hiking/picnic, rafting, horseback riding, skiing/snowboarding, rock climbing, sailing, hang gliding, caving, camping, backyard camping

Tours

Winery/brewery, historic/cultural site, scenic railroad, local/ethnic food, birding/wildflower/naturalist

Service

Does your partner have a favorite local charity? Commit to volunteering hours together in the upcoming year

Gift Card

Local restaurant/coffee shop, bookstore, car sharing site, music venue

“Perhaps the perfect gift is not in getting, but rather in the letting go. Letting go of societal standards...letting go of monetary expectations...letting go of perfection...letting go of consumer pressure...letting go of the need to out-do, impress, or check off the list. Let us give like the heart of a child—presenting the best of ourselves as if we were a carefully picked dandelion bouquet held out with love.”

—Rachel Macy Stafford

For Parents/Grandparents

Classes/Lessons	Gift them a class or share your own talents: art, photography, cooking, sports, yoga, dance, music, kayaking, surfing, paddle boarding, scuba diving, fly fishing, jewelry making, quilting, knitting, letterpress, floral design, pottery, glass blowing, writing/journaling, family ancestry
Entry Passes/Memberships	Museum, local/national park, zoo/aquarium, gym/pool/rec center, climbing gym, spa/hot springs, campground, running/bike race, local CSA (community supported agriculture), rail pass, AAA, national parks pass
Event Tickets	Movie, concert, opera, play, Broadway show, comedy show, music festival, lecture series, sporting event, car/boat show
Household Help	Organizing, cleaning, decluttering, gardening, yard work, errands, repair work, sewing/tailoring, resale/yard sale, catering, house sitting, interior design help, landscaping
Show Off Your Talents	If mom and dad paid for singing lessons, show your appreciation by writing a song. If you're a writer, express your feelings in a letter or poem—tell them in great detail all the things you appreciate about them. More of a visual person? Make a video!
Share a Skill	Does your mom want to start a blog or learn some yoga poses? Does your dad want to get more tech savvy? If you're skilled in these areas, spend a few hours teaching them the basics. Or, look into buying them some classes. Check out Skillshare for a great selection of affordable classes that your parents could do right in their living room
A Day Out	Sit down and think about what your mom or dad's ideal day would look like. Does she have a favorite breakfast place? A museum exhibit she's been wanting to see? Does he love to stroll through gardens or historic neighborhoods? Is there a friend he's been wanting to visit but doesn't want to make the drive alone? It doesn't have to be expensive. To make it extra fun, you could create a little "travel brochure" that includes a list of the activities and the times
Memory Book	Create a scrapbook for your parents that details your favorite memories of them from your childhood. If you have siblings, get them to contribute. Come up with categories—funniest memory, sweetest memory, most impressive memory—and include photos or drawings as well. This is a gift destined to become a cherished family treasure

Planning Ahead | Make a family calendar marked with important dates, such as birthdays, anniversaries, and family gatherings. Decorate the calendar with family photos.

- Service | Donate or volunteer your time to their favorite charity. Or, give the gift of giving to those less fortunate. With a gift card to an organization like Kiva or Global Giving, the recipient can pick their favorite cause or charity to support.
- Travel | Contribution toward a dream vacation, airline miles, hotel points, city tours, rail pass, national parks pass
- Recipe Book | Collect your favorite recipes and pass them along. Depending on the recipient, an accompanying cooking lesson may be appreciated as well.
- Party in a Box | Author Shauna Niequist gave her bachelor brother a pan of chicken enchiladas and added chips, salsa, black beans, beer, and a jar of caramel sauce on the side. In the card, she added cooking instructions and told him to buy a lime, vanilla ice cream, and cilantro just before hosting a party. If you have a go-to, make-ahead meal that's perfect for entertaining, make your own party in a box.
- Gift Card | Local restaurant/coffee shop, bookstore, car sharing site, music venue
- Career | Résumé help, advice session, shadow opportunity

For New Parents

Babysitting Help | If there's an older sibling, an offer to spend some time focused on big brother or big sister may also be appreciated.

Household Help | Homemade meals, organizing, decluttering, cleaning, gardening, yard work, errands, repair work, sewing/tailoring, catering, landscaping, babyproofing
